Parish Newsletter

Reflection:

It is worth noting that while Jesus asks them why they are agitated, he doesn't condemn, dismiss or criticise them for their response and reaction to his appearance. He not only accepts them as they are, but he also reassures and encourages them with his peace and his presence. As we have heard countless times over the last twelve months, because of Covid-19, this has been and sadly continues to be an unprecedented time for all of us. Our 'normal' way of life was abruptly halted; we had to wear masks and maintain social distance if and when we went shopping. People lost their jobs, kitchens became classrooms and many are still suffering because of chronic illness and the painful reality of bereavement. This has been a very difficult year for us. Let us not be too hard on ourselves if we too, like the disciples in the gospel, are also agitated and experience doubts in our hearts and daily lives. Listen to what he says "peace be with you".
